, teen-age idol of the lower depths of Tucson, Arizona in the Hot-Rodder mid-60s—a lost city surrounded by a bone-dry ocean of rocky deserts.. John Gilmore The classic account of the murder of three young girls by Charles Schmid, Jr.. Lover to many scrawny, broken girls, Schmid a champion gymnast—turned-half-baked philosopher and ultimately a lonely boy disguising an emptiness so vast that he sought to fill it by seeing how far he could go.
